MISSING OUT

I recently read a story about a man who had never been on a vacation. Because he was frugal, he saved for years for his first vacation, an ocean cruise.

The cruise was advertised as a 10 day cruise to exotic ports-of-call. He went to the travel agency to pick up the ticket he had purchased over the telephone. In order to save costs, the man decided to pack enough food in his suitcases to sustain himself on the cruise.

On the cruise every morning, afternoon, and evening he would return to his cabin to enjoy the food he had packed in his bags and to quietly ponder how much money he saved by not eating on board ship.

On the last night of the cruise he thought that he would treat himself to a hot meal on the ship. The man went to the ship's information desk to inquire of the purser how much the evening meal would cost. The kind purser asked the man where he had been eating the previous 9 days of the cruise. The man proudly said that he had packed food in his bags to save the cost of dining on the ship.

In an apologetic tone, the purser said to the man that all the food on the ship was included in the price of the ticket.

I wonder how many of us miss out on the blessings afforded us through the Lord because we depend on our own understanding (See Proverbs 3:5, 6). I wonder how many of us have quenched the working of the Spirit because we have put limitations on Him that He has not placed on himself. I wonder how many of us are missing out on God working exceeding abundantly beyond all that we ask or think according to the power (Holy Spirit) who works within us (See Ephesians 3:20) because someone told us that God's Spirit is limited.

Just like the man who thought he was being wise by packing his own food and missing out on the cruise ships cuisine. We may be missing out on the wonderful working of the Spirit in our lives because we deny His power. As the man on the cruise ship finally got a hot meal the last day of his cruise, it is never too late to discover and to allow the leading of the Spirit in our lives.
